

*Cuttles &
Our Consorting*

Who are Cuttles

Cuttles, or cittles, are sexually active plural littles in adult bodies. All littles are children until her body comes of age, when some may transition to cuttles and begin having sex the same as anyone else.*

'Grownups' is what cuttles refer to non-littles in adult bodies as.

This booklet does likewise.

'Kid' may refer to either a cuttle or a child. Child(ren) is never used for a cuttle, only for those not yet of age.

When asked, a little will give her internally felt age. If you are unsure if she is of age, ask specifically for her body's age.*

This booklet is primarily focused on cuttles in biological bodies. For specific details on robotic cuttles, see our sister booklet

Cuttles often have a pendant, ring, patch, etc with a cuttlefish design on it as a cultural artifact. Some are relatively realistic, others more abstract.

Animal cuttles may have their features incorporated, like the cat ears on Mittens' patch.

They serve a practical purpose as well as a communal one, making it clear she is a sexually active little. It might not be immediately visible, such as a pendant under a jacket. If she is interested in sex, she will present it to you. Some cuttles do not talk and she may use it to express consent for sex generally, with specifics to be worked out together.

*A cuttle's soft kiss
Her giggle you can't miss
A bouncing bundle of joy
And just a little coy
Her age is rather slight
Though she's stood sixty seasons in the light
As she lays beneath the covers
She takes her mother's lovers
One flesh shared between
Their differences felt yet unseen
It will be a treasured day
When with her you gently lay*

Joys & Considerations

Be gentle: Although her body is adult, she may only have the oral, anal, or vaginal capacity of her internal age or size. Partial insertion may be necessary

Sexual competency: Don't expect her to be particularly skilled at sex. Some are; others' every handjob will be as lacklustre as your first. Learn her talents as you would any lover's

Cuttle led: She may want sexual play, she might wish to engage in sex acts. She will let you know if she wants something. Go at her pace

Share the fun: Lots of cuttles love being shared, especially by grownups. Ask nicely and she might give you a turn

Messy cum: She might not realise or remember to tell you when she is about to orgasm. You might find yourself with a suddenly full mouth or a cum spattered thigh. Particularly young ones may pee a little when very excited too

Oral and grinding: Both giving and receiving these is beloved by many a cuttle. An offered thigh or welcoming mouth will endear you to a great many of them – and rubbing against her back will bring a smile to you both

A joy alongside pleasure: Playing with her is more about sharing maternal affection, her joy & giggles, and tenderness than sheer pleasure alone. Sometimes it is the simplest things that she wants, like being held while she masturbates. Many cuttles want comfort, cosiness, and affection moreso than climax. She won't complain if she cums though <3

Receptive preference: Many cuttles prefer being the receptive partner for penetrative sex. She often loves to use her penis or dildos on you, in any way you may invite her to as well
